

The Composition of Byzantine Glass Mosaic Tesserae

Leverhulme International Network 2007-2010

Members of the Leverhulme International Network took part in the 18 International congress of AIHV, L'Association Internationale pour l'Histoire du Verre, in Thessaloniki 21-25 September 2009. Bente Bjornholt, Liz James, Ian Freestone, Julian Henderson, Marco Verità and, conference organiser, Marie Dominique Nenna. Papers on Byzantine glass mosaics and related material included:

L. James, Glass and the manufacture of Byzantine mosaics

M. Verità & S. Zecchin, Scientific investigation of Byzantine glass tesserae from the mosaics of the south chapel of Torcello's Basilica, Venice

C. Boschetti, K. Nikira, P. Veroinesi, J. Henderson, C. Leonelli, Glass in mosaic tesserae: two interdisciplinary research projects

A. Antonaras, Gold-glass tiles from St Demetrios' wall decoration

U. Ozgumus, Recent glass finds in Istanbul

J. Drauschke, S. Greiff & S. Stamenković, Early Byzantine glass from Caračín Grad/Iustiniana Prima (Serbia) – first results of chemical and archaeological investigations

C. Boschetti, C. Leonelli, A. Corradi, The earliest wall mosaics and the origin of glass. An Archaeological and archaeometric study on Roman age glass from Italy

C. G. Guray, Early Byzantine glass finds from Elaiussa Sebaste (Ayash/Mersin-Turkey)