Environmental
Packaging - Design Masterclass

'WRAP'

We have a tough client who wants a design solution for a new organic drink aimed at the youth market - eco-values meets youth culture. Recyclability - a very effective packaging option, Sustainability - is about not running down one resource at the expense of another, Reusability - is a much neglected aspect of packaging. Biodegradability is fast becoming an important area for packaging, with many new materials such as vegetable based bio-plastics being used. Come and be part of our design studio experience. BOOK YOUR PLACE and join our team at A.M Associates with the our director Laurel Miller leading the session !
