

CORTH Centre: Forthcoming Events, Autumn 2017

Bronwen Gillespie (CORTH Postdoctoral Member and Independent Researcher in Public Health): Making sense of micronutrients – Mothers' views from Guatemala and Peru.

21 September, Thursday, 12-13:30, IDS, Room 221

Rachel Olson (Researcher in Aboriginal Health): Indigenous midwifery and birth place: exploring authoritative knowledge, risk, and technology in northern Canada and rural Uganda.

5 October, Thursday, 4-6 pm, Arts C, Room C333

Carrie Llewellyn (Reader in Applied Behavioural Medicine, Brighton and Sussex Medical School): What is Health Behavioural Research?

19 October, Thursday, 4-6 pm, Arts C, Room C333

Liiri Oja (CORTH Visitor, PhD Candidate at the European University Institute Florence): "Dirty, Misbehaving and Dangerous Women": Human Rights-Based Responses to Reproductive Violence. Joint seminar with School of Law.

25 October, Wednesday, 1-2:30 pm, Room TBC

Ursula Rao (Professor of Anthropology, University of Leipzig): Biometric governance and food security in India. Anthropology Department/CORTH seminar

14 November, Tuesday, 3-5 pm, Pevensey 2D10

Liiri Oja (CORTH Visitor), Maya Unnithan (Department of Anthropology, School of Global Studies): Transitional Justice, Gender and Reproduction Narratives: Colombia, Estonia, Timor. CORTH Half-day Workshop

8 December, Friday, 2-5 pm, Room TBC

Maria Moscati (Lecturer in Family Law, School of Law, Politics and Sociology): Children's Health Rights. One day CORTH workshop.

11 December, Monday, Room TBC