The Department of Management is looking to recruit two full-time faculty members at Lecturer/ Senior Lecturer/ Reader level in Information Systems.

The successful candidates will be expected to contribute to the research profile and the teaching portfolio provided by a vibrant and growing group of Information Systems and Technology Management scholars. The group works on four main research themes including: innovation and digital business strategy; innovative qualitative methodologies in the digital age; interactions between technology, work and organisations and policy. Click here for the profiles of the research group and its members.

Applicants from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds are encouraged to apply including Management, Information Systems, Science and Technology Studies, Organisation Studies and Sociology. We are open to a broad range of methodological expertise and theoretical and philosophical approaches that complements and/or enriches existing expertise.

The successful candidate(s) will be research active academics who enjoy working in a dynamic, multidisciplinary environment. Their research profile should be reflecting the rank they are applying. Candidates who apply for a Lectureship position should demonstrate the ability to publish in international excellent and world-leading journals at the level of ABS 3 and 4, evidenced for example by existing publications and submitted work. They should also demonstrate active participation in prestigious conferences of the discipline.

Candidates who apply for a Senior Lectureship/Reader position are expected to have a strong research track record in terms of publications in internationally-rated journals at the level of ABS 3, 4 and 4*. In addition, they should demonstrate success in research income generation and should be actively involved in activities aiming to generate external funding.

The successful applicants also need to have an enthusiasm for teaching and for collaborating with colleagues. They are expected to develop new courses and modules and enrich our teaching portfolios drawing upon their research.

Informal enquiries may be made with the Subject Group Lead for the Operations and Technology Management, Dr Dimitra Petrakaki Dimitra Petrakaki (D.Petrakaki@sussex.ac.uk).
2. The School / Division

The University of Sussex Business School is a unique research-focused interdisciplinary school, which takes a strong policy-directed view on business practices while also developing the underlying core disciplines. It includes the Department of Accounting and Finance, the Department of Strategy and Marketing, the Department of Management, the Department of Economics and the Science Policy Research Unit (SPRU).

With such excellent foundations the University of Sussex Business School offers something distinctive and special to the future of business and management research and education in the UK and beyond. It is exceptionally well placed to provide leadership in the development and dissemination of sustainable business and management practice, informed by sound economic logic.

3. The Department of Management

The Department of Management, founded in 2018, currently encompasses over 25 research-active faculty members, plus over 13 teaching fellows. The Department is composed of two subject groups (Operations and Technology Management; Organisational Behaviour and Human Resource Management) and a number of cross-disciplinary research groups (please see details at – https://www.sussex.ac.uk/business-school/management/research). Successful applicants would be allocated to the appropriate subject group and invited to join (or potentially launch) a research group.

The Department currently hosts one undergraduate and four postgraduate programmes entirely within the department, and several more degree programmes are offered jointly with other Departments in the School and the University. This includes BScs in Business and Management; and MScs in Global Supply Chain and Logistics Management; Human Resource Management; Management; and MBA. Successful candidates will be expected to contribute to modules in these degrees, as appropriate for their discipline. We have a workload planning model, which protects research time, and is used to allocate teaching fairly across our faculty. The Department attracts students from all over the world, enhancing the cultural dimension of the learning experience. We also have many international links, collaborating with universities around the globe. Sussex is an inclusive, welcoming and truly international University.
