I. CONTEXT

By 1953/4 rationing had been almost entirely phased out, so the opportunity presented itself for statisticians to observe what families would buy when free to choose. To this end, the Ministry of Labour and National Service (MoL) conducted a large-scale Family Expenditure Survey with the aim of providing updated benchmarks for the cost of living.<sup>1</sup> No large-scale household-expenditure survey had been carried out since 1937/8, the results of which were only finally used to update the ('interim') cost of living index in 1947.

The 1953/4 survey was much more elaborate than earlier surveys in the UK. All spending household members were required to keep records of their daily expenditure, itemising every purchase for three weeks. The starting date varied across the year from household to household (starting from the end of January 1953) so that allowances would be made for seasonal variations in prices. Reporting of longer-term expenditure was also requested comprehensively, including the cost of housing & utilities and other (annual/quarterly) expenditures on such items as licences, insurance premiums and education. In further contrast to the 1937/8 household survey, details of income were also requested.

The method of household selection was made by first computing 'sampling fractions' for areas based upon population densities. Selection of actual addresses was made using Local Authority lists of premises subject to local rating assessments. Interviewers were trained before visiting each household and information was obtained by a mixture of interviewing and leaving respondents to fill in forms themselves. For example, form H.B.2 – relating to rent, mortgage-payments, dwelling upkeep & utilities – was completed by the interviewer who asked for this information from 'the householder, housewife or other responsible member of the household'.<sup>2</sup> Three H.B.4 forms – requesting everyday expenditure for a total of twenty-one days – were, on the other hand, left with each spending member of a household to complete themselves.

The Ministry of Labour remained confident about the utility and accuracy of the results of this survey.<sup>3</sup> A total of 13,018 household budgets were returned. The MoL deemed only 107 of these to be unusable – meaning that 12,911 suitably completed household budgets were available for analysis. There were only two principle caveats to the MoL's expression of confidence in the results. Firstly, because reporting income was not compulsory, there were over 500 cases where households contained at least one member who did not declare their income on the requisite form. But 'in the great majority of these cases sufficient details were obtained for the income of the household and of the head of household to be [correctly] allocated to [an] income range'.<sup>4</sup> A related issue is that there was some under-reporting of income from some of those who did fill in the relevant form. This was immediately evident from some cases in which expenditure outweighed income.

Secondly, comparisons made between survey-recorded expenditure on alcohol and tobacco and national amounts implied by customs and excise duties on these items revealed a 'substantial' level of underreporting. Alcohol consumption recorded in the survey amounted to less than half of what might have been expected; the survey reflected expenditure on tobacco of approximately 75% of what duties implied.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>1</sup> A comprehensive report, not published by the Ministry of Labour until 1957, provides more detailed context and results than can be established here: Ministry of Labour and National Service, Report of an Enquiry into Household Expenditure in 1953-54, (London: H.M.S.O., 1957) [hereafter referred to as MoL, Report]. This guide has been created by Research Officer Kevin Reynolds, University of Sussex.

For other types of expenditure, however, there was a close parallel between survey-reported expenditure and what was implied by other sources. Exceptions (much less significant than those mentioned above) took place with what, in the early fifties, often counted as luxuries: chocolate, sweets, soft drinks, ice cream and meals away from home. Some of this would have been accounted for more bluntly, however, under the description of ‘pocket money’ given to children. It seems probable that – in contrast to any intentional desire to downplay consumption of alcohol and tobacco – respondents occasionally forgot about such items since these were often unplanned one-off purchases unlike the more routine daily/weekly spend.

Of the 12,911 comprehensively completed surveys returned to the MoL, the British Living Standards project has been able to digitise 12,854 satisfactorily with, therefore, only 57 budgets that we have deemed problematic in some way (usually due to missing or damaged pages in the archive). This digitisation project has involved working with approximately 1,201,448 digital photographs of files held in The National Archives – the overwhelming majority of which capture two pages of a survey form.<sup>6</sup> All of the data has been captured from hand-written responses on forms, requiring various strategies of data-cleaning via a mixture of computer-programming and manual proofing.

The present dataset, version 3, provides individual-person-level expenditure and income (disaggregated by item-code<sup>7</sup>) in addition to household-level data.

<sup>6</sup> The TNA records are held within Ministry of Labour files, ‘LAB-24’ (‘Ministry of Labour and National Service: Returns of the Household Expenditure Enquiry, 1953 to 1954’). There are 1,236 relevant archival boxes. See online catalogue entry: <http://discovery.nationalarchives.gov.uk/SearchUI/Details?uri=C10139>.

<sup>7</sup> The list of MoL-defined items codes – or ‘hq-codes’ appear in Appendix I – ‘H.Q.’ Codes [HB.2/3/4/5], from p. 59.

II. GENERAL NOTES

1. Forms Used in the Survey

This section provides a brief outline of all forms used in the survey. To see the actual forms themselves (apart from H.B.1) please see Appendix VI – Example of an Original Household Budget on page 100.

H.B.1 [Personal Details]

This form recorded personal details including the address of the household and the names of its inhabitants. There was just one used per household. It was separated from other forms at an early stage by the Ministry of Labour & National Service and later destroyed. Before this happened, however, useful summary data that could not be used to identify any individuals was transferred to the form H.B.20.

H.B.2 [Housing & Utilities]

This form, completed by a visiting interviewer rather than any member of the household, recorded information about the dwelling and its upkeep (whether, for example, it was owned or rented, and the expenditure on the mortgage/rent). There was just one single form used for each household. Expenditures were converted to weekly averages by MoL administrators and these converted figures were written on the original forms themselves in red ink.

H.B.3 [Annual/Quarterly Expenditures]

A H.B.3 form was completed by each spending member of the household and was designed to account for larger regular payments such as licences, insurance premiums and education costs (with such costs usually occurring quarterly or annually). Expenditures were converted to weekly averages by MoL administrators and these converted figures were written on the original forms themselves in red ink.

H.B.4 [Daily Expenditure]

This form was used by each spending member of the household to record daily expenditure on all items purchased, including food & drink, fuel, travel and other expenditure. All expenditures were checked by MoL administrators and appended with 'HQ codes' written on the original forms themselves in red ink.

H.B.5 [Income]

This form was used to record income for each member of the household with some form of income (including details of welfare allowances). Income figures were converted to weekly averages by MoL administrators and these converted figures were written on the original forms themselves in red ink. There are 516 records with no H.B.5 (income) forms (see page 4 above for a brief discussion of cases where income was not declared).

H.B.20 [Summary Household Data]

This form, produced as a summary by the MoL (rather than by respondents) recorded a range of data that applied to the household as a whole. Some of this information was taken from H.B.1 so that non personal data could be retained before destroying the H.B.1 form. There are 33 H.B.20 forms missing from the 12,854 records represented in this dataset.

2. Table Structure

The four csv-format files – Household-Table, HB3-Table, HB4-Table & HB5-Table – relate to 12,854 household records of the 1953-4 Ministry of Labour survey.<sup>8</sup> These files/tables form a relational database reflecting the structure of a household return/file as shown in the graphic below:

Rectangular items in this graphic represent forms that were held by the Ministry of Labour for each participating household. We can see that each household file included a single H.B.1 form (personal details), a single H.B.2 form (housing & utilities) and a single H.B.20 form (summary household data). In addition, each spending person within that household returned a single H.B.3 form (annual/quarterly expenditure), three H.B.4 forms (one for each week of daily expenditure), and a single H.B.5 (income) form.<sup>9</sup>

The blue items represent information held within this data-set. The H.B.1 form is coloured grey because it was destroyed by the MoL and so there is no table to represent its contents (the form recorded the postal address plus a list of individuals' names and other details). Information from forms H.B.2 and H.B.20 for any given household are found in a single record in Household-Table.

Individual person-level data is held within HB3-Table, HB4-Table and HB5-Table. The H.B.4 forms in the graphic above are surrounded by a dashed line to convey the fact that information from all three forms is contained within a single table, HB4-Table.

Every record in every file/table contains a unique household identifier, Household_Ref. This is, in fact, a combination of the four fields, Region, Area, Address & Household_No that have <sup>8</sup> A single 'household' is not the same as a single address which may house several 'households'. See Household_No (not to be confused with Household_Ref) on page 10.

<sup>9</sup> This statement assumes that all was present and correct for a given household – which was not always the case. See page 6 for further details of missing forms.

each been prefixed with leading zeros in order to provide a uniform-length unique identifier combined within one field for the purposes of matching records from different tables with relative ease (see Household_Ref entries in the Record Descriptions below, pages 10, 23, 29, 60).

The following graphic represents the key fields defining the relationship between the four tables:

Thus, there is a single record for each household within Household-Table, each identifiable by a unique Household_Ref.

In files HB3-Table, HB4-Table and HB5-Table, there are as many records with the same Household_Ref as there are persons who completed the relevant form.<sup>10</sup> Thus, unique record identification in these tables consists of: Household_Ref + Person_Id.

Some fields/columns in these tables do not relate directly to information that was recorded by respondents or MoL administrators. Fields that have been introduced as part of the digitisation project run by British Living Standards appear in the Record Descriptions below with the appendage '[BLS]'.

Many fields appear in the following format:

Form_questionNumber_hqCode

Thus, for example, the field HB5_q1_hq10.10 (within HB5-Table) relates to form H.B.5, question 1, and is the (monetary) value therein with a 'H.Q. code' of 10.10 that was entered for the given household-person. This particular code refers to 'Gross income from wages, salaries, bonuses, etc.' which can be found in the list of all H.Q. codes in Appendix I below (from page 64). Since respondents and MoL administrators often recorded numbers on seemingly inappropriate places on the forms, the reliable way to analyse this dataset statistically is to focus entirely on the H.Q. code element of any field that includes such a hqCode in its label. Fields without H.Q. codes in the field name exist because they reflect data that was not applicable to such coding (for example, information such as the number of people in a household) or where respondents/administrators had no choice but to conform rigidly to the intended structure of the form. For a more detailed explanation see Appendix V – Field Naming Convention.

III. RECORD DESCRIPTIONS

A) Household-Table [Summary Data, HB20/Housing & Utilities, HB2]

Household_Ref [BLS]

Unique Household Reference

This unique household reference is generated from combining Region + Area + Address + Household_No so that a single-field standardised text-based key can be used to form the relational connection between each of the tables 1) in a way that most software packages will easily work with and 2) in a way that is easily read by eye. For these reasons, the reference is also preceded with the text “HR” (Household Reference) and interspersed with hyphens. Thus the record with a Region code of 11, an Area code of 1, an Address code of 4, and a Household_No of 0, has the Household_Ref ‘HR-11-01-04-00’.

Region

Region Code

This two-digit number represents large areas across the United Kingdom (for example ‘Northern’). See the table in Appendix IV on page 90.

Area

Area Code

This two-digit number represents an area within a more general ‘region’ (see the previous field-description above). See the table in Appendix IV on page 90.

Address

Address List Number

This number, consisting of up to two digits, represents an address that was selected from a Local Ratings list within a Region + Area locality.

Household_No

Household Number

This number, consisting of up to two digits, identifies a single household within a particular address. This was necessary because a single address – a single physical building – might have contained more than one ‘household’ as defined by the MoL. The MoL definition for a ‘household’ was as follows:

[...] A household was defined as either a person living alone, or a group of two or more persons living together in the sense of wholly, or partly, sharing meals and other household expenses. These persons were not necessarily related, e.g., two friends living together in a house or flat constituted a household for the purposes of the enquiry. Private households which included “boarders” were regarded as within the scope of the enquiry and such boarders were treated as members of the household [...P]ayment made by the boarder to the household was regarded as an internal transfer within the household unit, i.e. it was disregarded when summarising the total expenditure and total income of all members of the household taken together. [...] “Lodgers” i.e. persons renting part of a dwelling [...] from the main tenant or owner and living and catering for themselves separately within that part, were treated as a separate household and separate sets of records were obtained from such households.<sup>11</sup>

Start_Week [MoL/BLS]

Starting Week Number

The "week number" assigned to each household was determined by the date from which the household's three-weeks' record keeping began. Week 1 began on 26th January 1953. This number was recorded in two places within the household file: 1) on the front of the file and 2) in the HB20 form. In 6 cases, these numbers did not match and so the correct one has been chosen by BLS and entered in this field (by checking the first date entered in the first HB.4 form). It is for this reason that this cannot be deemed a purely 'MoL' generated field and why its label here is appended with '[MoL/BLS]'. Furthermore, in the cases where either the front of the file or the HB.20 form was missing, the number was taken from the alternative respective source. There were, however, no cases in which both the file-front-page and the HB.20 were both missing for a household. All of this means that this field reports the starting week reliably for every household.

Type of Area

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 | County of London.                                |
| 2 | } Provincial towns with over 100,000 population. |
| 3 |  |
| 4 |  |

HB20_q3a

Total number of members in the household

This is a single-digit figure so will always be between 1 and 9.

HB20_q3b

Total number of household members aged under 16 years of age

This is a single-digit figure so will always be between 0 and 9. Note that this figure will include children under the age of five as recorded in the next field, HB20_q3c.

HB20_q3c

Total number of household members under 5 years of age

This is a single-digit figure so will always be between 0 and 9.

HB20_q4

Constitution of Household

- 1 One man (adult or adolescent), with or without children, and no others in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 2 One woman (adult or adolescent), with or without children, and no others in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 3 One man and one woman (both being adult unless they were living together as man and wife in which case the question of age was ignored), with or without children, but with no other adolescents or adults in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 4 One man and one woman (both being adult unless they were living together as man and wife in which case the question of age was ignored), with or without children, and with one or more adolescents but no other adults in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 5 Any other types of household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)

HB20_q5

Occupational Status of Head of Household

- 01 Employers (excluding those - such as authors - known to be employing only one or two personal assistants, e.g. secretaries, typists).
- 02 Professional - working on own account or where the only persons employed are one or two personal assistants, e.g. secretaries, typists).
- 03 Professional - employees, i.e. employed by firms, local authorities, etc.
- 04 Teaching - working on own account.
- 05 Teaching - employees, i.e. employed by colleges, schools, local authorities, etc.
- 06 Managerial employees - e.g. directors, managers, district or branch managers, administrative personnel, technical staff, but not supervisors, foremen, overmen, chargehands, etc.
- 07 Clerical employees - e.g. clerks, commercial travellers, agents, but not shop assistants.
- 08 Manual workers - employees - skilled and unskilled, including foremen, etc., and postmen, waiters, cooks and domestic workers.
- 09 Working on own account, other than professional or teaching - e.g. boot repairers, rag and bone merchants, shop or stall keepers, jobbing plumbers, etc.
- 10 Shop assistants.
- 11 Members of Police Forces or Fire Services.
- 12 Members of Armed Forces.
- 13 No gainful occupation, including retired.

HB20_q6

Industry in which Head of Household Worked

The 28 industry groups provided for in this code are substantially the main "Orders" of the Standard Industrial Classification.

- 01 Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing.
- 02 Mining and Quarrying.
- 03 Treatment of Non-Metalliferous Mining Products other than Coal.
- 04 Chemicals and Allied Trades.
- 05 Metal Manufacture.
- 06 Engineering, Shipbuilding and Electrical Goods.
- 07 Vehicles.
- 08 Metal Goods not elsewhere specified.
- 09 Precision Instruments, Jewellery, etc.
- 10 Textiles.
- 11 Leather, Leather Goods and Fur.
- 12 Clothing (including footwear).
- 13 Food, Drink and Tobacco.
- 14 Manufactures of Wood and Cork.
- 15 Paper and Printing.
- 16 Other Manufacturing Industries.
- 17 Building and Contracting.
- 18 Gas, Electricity and Water.
- 19 Transport - Rail.
- 20 Other Transport and Communication.
- 21 Distributive Trades.
- 22 Insurance, Banking and Finance.
- 23 Armed Forces (not Police).
- 24 National Government Service, other than Armed Forces.
- 25 Local Government Service, including Police.
- 26 Professional Services.
- 27 Miscellaneous Services.
- 28 No Industry, viz. retired or otherwise not gainfully occupied.

HB20_q7

Employment Position of Head of Household

- 1 Working full-time.
- 2 Working part-time (i.e. not more than 30 hours per week).
- 3 Temporarily stopped (i.e. temporarily stood off from work but with the understanding that they were to return to their job within six weeks).
- 4 Unemployed (though normally gainfully employed).
- 5 Sick during more than 50 per cent of the record period.
- 6 Retired or otherwise not gainfully occupied.

HB20_q8

Members on Holiday

This code was provided so that, if necessary, separate analyses could be made for households some or all of whose members were on holiday during part or the whole of the period during which they were keeping records.

- 1 All members of the household on holiday during at least 7 of the 21 days covered by the records.
- 2 One or more, but not all, members similarly on holiday. [during at least 7 of the 21 days covered by the records].
- 3 All other households.

HB20_q9

Households With Certain Specific Features Concerned With Their Constitution

- 1 One or more visitors staying in the households during the whole or part of the period covered by the records, and/or one or more members of the household away from home during the whole or part of this period.
- 2 The number of persons constituting the household changed during the period covered by the records, e.g. through births, deaths, etc.
- 3 Household included one or more resident servants, e.g. gardeners, chauffeurs, etc.
- 4 Households to which code numbers 1 and 2 were both applicable.
- 5 Households to which code numbers 1 and 3 were both applicable.
- 6 Households to which code numbers 2 and 3 were both applicable.
- 7 Households to which code numbers 1, 2 and 3 were all applicable.
- 8 All other households, i.e. those to which none of the circumstances covered by code numbers 1 to 3 applied.

HB20_q10

Type of Household

This code enabled separate figures to be prepared, if required, for some special types of households. It was divided into two parts:- [01-19, Households in which all income recipients stated the amount and source of their income; 21-39, Households which did not furnish complete details of the amounts and sources of income].

- 01 Retired man living alone, not in receipt of State Old Age Pension<sup>12</sup> or National Assistance<sup>13</sup>.
- 02 Retired woman in similar circumstances [living alone, not in receipt of State Old Age Pension or National Assistance.]
- 03 Man and wife living alone, the man (or both) having retired, and neither being in receipt of State Old Age Pension or National Assistance.
- 04 Retired man living alone, not in receipt of State Old Age Pension but in receipt of National Assistance.
- 05 Retired woman in similar circumstances [living alone, not in receipt of State Old Age Pension but in receipt of National Assistance.]
- 06 Man and wife living alone, the man (or both) having retired, and neither being in receipt of State Old Age Pension but in receipt of National Assistance.
- 07 Other households, not in receipt of National Assistance and not including any boarders, in which at least three-quarters of the total household income was provided by State Old Age Pension(s).
- 17 Households similar to those in code 07 except that the household included one or more boarders.
- 08 Other households, not including any boarders, in which at least three-quarters of the total household income was provided by State Old Age Pension(s) plus National Assistance.
- 18 Households similar to those in code 08 except that the household included one or more boarders.
- 09 All other households, not including boarders, for which the amounts and sources of income were furnished.
- 19 All other households, which included one or more boarders, for which the amounts and sources of income were furnished.
- 21 Retired man living alone.
- 22 Retired woman living alone.
- 23 Man and wife living alone, the man (or both) having retired.
- 28 Other households, not including any boarders, but including one or more retired persons.
- 38 Other households, including one or more boarders and including one or more retired persons.
- 29 All other households, not including boarders, for which complete details of the amounts and sources of income were not furnished.
- 39 All other households including one or more boarders, for which complete details of the amounts and sources of income were not furnished.

<sup>12</sup> The term "State Old Age Pension" in this context meant a Retirement or Old Age Pension paid by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance, or any other form of pension, benefit or allowance paid by that Department to elderly people.

<sup>13</sup> The term "National Assistance" included Assistance paid in lieu of as well as in supplementation of National Insurance benefits, allowances or pensions, but excluded Non-Contributory Old Age Pensions which were regarded as comprised within the term "State Old Age Pension" - see previous footnote.

HB20_q11

Number of Income Recipients in Household

This single-digit code showed the number of members of the household in receipt of an income of 10s or more per week.

HB20_q12

Income of Head of Household

Average weekly income in pounds – one of 9 income brackets. The same income brackets are used for Total Income of Household (HB20_13).

- 1 £50 or more.
- 2 £30 but under £50.
- 3 £20 but under £30.
- 4 £14 but under £20.
- 5 £10 but under £14.
- 6 £8 but under £10.
- 7 £6 but under £8.
- 8 £3 but under £6.
- 9 Under £3.

HB20_q13

Total Income of Household

Average weekly household income in pounds – one of 9 income brackets. The same income brackets are used for Income of Head of Household (HB20_q12). See HB20_Range_Min, HB20_Range_Max and Sync_with_HB20_q13.

- 1 £50 or more.
- 2 £30 but under £50.
- 3 £20 but under £30.
- 4 £14 but under £20.
- 5 £10 but under £14.
- 6 £8 but under £10.
- 7 £6 but under £8.
- 8 £3 but under £6.
- 9 Under £3.

HB20_q14

Type of Dwelling Occupied

- 1 Council dwelling (including special Housing Trusts in Scotland and Northern Ireland).
- 2 Other rented dwelling, unfurnished.
- 3 Other rented dwelling, furnished.
- 4 Dwelling owner-occupied (being purchased).
- 5 Dwelling owner-occupied (purchase completed).
- 6 Dwelling provided rent-free.

HB5_Total_Household_Income [BLS]

Total Household Income

This is the total sum of weekly-average income, in pence, reported from all H.B.5 forms for a given household. This equates to the sum of fields HB5_q1_hq10.10 to HB5_q4_hq10.53 for all individuals in a given household. To determine whether the MoL deemed this figure to be comprehensively reported by all relevant members of the household, see HB20_q10. To determine whether this figure, aggregated by BLS, conforms to the MoL-reported income-band defined by HB20_q13, see Sync_with_HB20_q13.

HB20_Range_Min [BLS]

Minimum level in MoL-defined income range

This figure shows the minimum weekly household income level, converted to pence, taken from the income band reported in HB20_q13.

HB20_Range_Max [BLS]

Maximum level in MoL-defined income range

This figure shows the maximum weekly household income level, converted to pence, taken from the income band reported in HB20_q13. For the highest band (that equates to a minimum income in HB20_Range_Min above 12,000 pence) the upper limit is set in this field to the absurdly high level of 12,000,000,000 pence so as to ensure the capture of all the highest income earners.

Sync_with_HB20_q13 [BLS]

This boolean field denotes whether or not the total income figure (HB5_Total_Income), calculated by BLS from the sum of all H.B.5 forms, matches the range specified (by MoL administrators) in HB20_q13. The minimum and maximum figures, converted to pence, from the band specified in HB20_q13 can be viewed in HB20_Range_Min and HB20_Range_Max. There are just over 500 cases in which income was not reported in detail – in which case this field reads 'False'. See HB20_q10, Num_HB5, and the brief discussion of such cases on page 4 above.

Unique Household Reference

This unique household reference is generated from combining Region + Area + Address + Household_No (from the relevant record in Household-Table) so that a single-field standardised text-based key can be used to form the relational connection between each of the tables 1) in a way that most software packages will easily work with and 2) in a way that is easily read by eye. For these reasons, the reference is also preceded with the text "HR" (Household Reference) and interspersed with hyphens. Thus the household with a Region code of 11, an Area code of 1, an Address code of 4, and a Household_No of 0, has the Household_Ref 'HR-11-01-04-00'.

Person_Id

HB3_q6_to_q11_hq5.48

Insurances (other than motor) - Television Insurance

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. HQ code 5.48 is used – normally with reference to entries in for H.B.4 (daily expenditure) – to refer to 'Repairs to or servicing of items in code 5.4 [Radio, television, musical instruments]'. Its use in form H.B.3, however, is to refer to expenditure on television insurance.

HB3_q6_to_q11_hq6.37

Insurances (other than motor) - Photographic Equipment Insurance

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. HQ code 6.37 is used – normally with reference to entries in for H.B.4 (daily expenditure) – to refer to 'Photographic goods, including charges for developing and printing films and for studio photos'. Its use in form H.B.3, however, is to refer to expenditure on photographic equipment insurance.

Insurances (other than motor) - Cycle Insurance

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. HQ code 7.34 is used – normally with reference to entries in for H.B.4 (daily expenditure) – to refer to 'Upkeep and repair of cycles, tricycles'. Its use in form H.B.3, however, is to refer more specifically to expenditure on cycle insurance.

HB3_q6_to_q11_hq8.62

Insurances (other than motor) - Premiums on "education" policies

HB3_q6_to_q11_hq9.15

Insurances (other than motor) - Sickness and accident insurance premiums; insurance to provide income or compensation during sickness or incapacity; subscriptions to organisations or funds to meet costs of medical or surgical treatment, etc. (excluding items coded 8.74)

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here.

HB3_q12_hq8.44*Education, Training, Etc., Fees - Payments to day nurseries

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. There is just one household, HR-16-05-05-00, that records a payment – of 44 pence per week towards 'Day nursery school fees' under question 12 of the H.B.3 form.

HB3_q12_hq8.61*Education, Training, Etc., Fees – Fees and allowances to students at residential colleges, boarding schools, etc., (i.e., expenditure covering living costs as well as tuition).

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. The single household, HR-20-41-31-00, that records a payment shows a total of £150 towards 'General boarding school fee' entered by the respondent. This has been entered as a weekly average of 57 shillings and 8 pence by MoL administrators. This has been digitised as 692 pence per week.

HB3_q12_hq8.62*Education, Training, Etc., Fees - Other full-time education or training; premiums on "education" policies

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here.

HB3_q12_hq8.63*Education, Training, Etc., Fees - Part-time education or training, music or dancing lessons

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here.

HB3_q12_hq8.64*Education, Training, Etc., Fees - Medical, dental, etc., fees, including cost of dentures, nursing.

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here. There is only one household, HR-20-87-44-00, that records an expenditure in question 12 of the H.B.3 form with hq-code 8.64. This is for a weekly average payment of 29 pence for 'Lessons (Speech Therapy)'. This item was originally coded as 8.63, 'Part-time education or training, music or dancing lessons' which seems more relevant than 8.64. However, an MoL administrator crossed out the 8.63 and replaced it with 8.64 instead.

HB3_q12_to_q13_hq8.73

Subscriptions to trade unions and professional organisations

This figure is the weekly average in pence. The original respondent's figures were converted to a weekly average (in shillings and pence) by MoL administrators and it is this regularised MoL figure, written in red ink on the original form, that has been digitised into pence here.

There are only two households/individuals, HR-13-50-04-00 (person 1) and HR-20-81-16-00 (person 3), that recorded a (single, small) value for the hq code 8.73 within the HB3 form since it was more appropriate to record this information elsewhere: there are thousands of instances of this expense recorded in HB4 forms. The instance in household HR-13-50-04-00 refers to a weekly average expense of ten pence towards the 'Society of Radiographers'. The example in household HR-20-81-16-00, on the other hand, records an average weekly expenditure of 2 shillings (24 pence) for an 'A.E.U. Subscription', a subscription, that is, to a trades union (as noted in pencil on the form), most probably the Amalgamated Engineering Union.

D) HB5-Table [Income]

Household_Ref [BLS]

Unique Household Reference

This unique household reference is generated from combining Region + Area + Address + Household_No (from the relevant record in Household-Table) so that a single-field standardised text-based key can be used to form the relational connection between each of the tables 1) in a way that most software packages will easily work with and 2) in a way that is easily read by eye. For these reasons, the reference is also preceded with the text “HR” (Household Reference) and interspersed with hyphens. Thus the household with a Region code of 11, an Area code of 1, an Address code of 4, and a Household_No of 0, has the Household_Ref ‘HR-11-01-04-00’.

II. PERIODS FOR WHICH RECORDS FURNISHED

The weeks of the enquiry year were numbered consecutively, starting from the week beginning 26th January, 1953, which was week number 1. The "week number" assigned to each household was determined by the date from which the household's three-weeks' record keeping began, and this code therefore provided for analyses to provided information about seasonal variations in consumption and expenditure.

III. NUMBER OF PERSONS IN HOUSEHOLD*

This was a three-figure code. The first figure showed the total number of members in the household; the second showed the total number of such persons aged under 16 years of age; and the third showed the number of these who were under 5 years of age.

IV. CONSTITUTION OF HOUSEHOLD

- 1 One man (adult or adolescent), with or without children, and no others in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 2 One woman (adult or adolescent), with or without children, and no others in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 3 One man and one woman (both being adult unless they were living together as man and wife in which case the question of age was ignored), with or without children, but with no other adolescents or adults in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 4 One man and one woman (both being adult unless they were living together as man and wife in which case the question of age was ignored), with or without children, and with one or more adolescents but no other adults in household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)
- 5 Any other types of household. (Note:- "Adult"= aged 21 or over; "Adolescent"=aged 16 to 20 inclusive; "Child"=aged under 16.)

V. OCCUPATIONAL STATUS OF HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

- 01 Employers (excluding those - such as authors - known to be employing only one or two personal assistants, e.g. secretaries, typists).

- 5 Dwelling owner-occupied (purchase completed).
- 6 Dwelling provided rent-free.

* Persons normally living as members of a household but who were away from home during part of the period covered by the record keeping were counted as members, but visitors who happened to be staying with the household were not included. Where some change in the number occurred (e.g. births, deaths) during the record keeping period, the number taken was that which applied during the greater part of the three weeks.

** For an employee the industry code assigned was normally that of the industry or business of his employer, but resident servants in a private household were coded 27 (Miscellaneous services).

*** The term "State Old Age Pension" in this context meant a Retirement or Old Age Pension paid by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance, or any other form of pension, benefit or allowance paid by that Department to elderly people.

**** The term "National Assistance" included Assistance paid in lieu of as well as in supplementation of National Insurance benefits, allowances or pensions, but excluded Non-Contributory Old Age Pensions which were regarded as comprised within the term "State Old Age Pension" - see previous footnote.

APPENDIX V – FIELD NAMING CONVENTION

Many field-names appear in the following three-part format:

Form_questionNumber_hqCode

They begin with the relevant form, followed by the relevant question on that form, followed by the relevant administrative ‘H.Q.’ code that was assigned (by MoL administrators) to every monetary value that was deemed to be valid. For example, field HB5_q1_hq10.10 relates to form H.B.5, question 1, where values were entered with a hq-code of 10.10, which denotes ‘Gross income from wages, salaries, bonuses, etc.’ (see Appendix I for the list of all HQ-codes).

However, it is important to acknowledge that respondents and/or MoL administrators did not always enter monetary values next to what we might deem to be the appropriate question on a form. In aggregating income or expenditure, however, this lack of precision in positioning numerical answers on the page was not crucial, since all numerical values could (and can) be accurately aggregated according to the hq-code that MoL administrators wrote next to every value they checked and deemed valid.

Thus it is appropriate to treat the questionNumber element of a given fieldname as merely a guide to where the data was asked for, and most probably retrieved from, on the original form. For complete accuracy in statistical terms, we must ignore the questionNumber element of a field and rely entirely on the hq-Code. The questionNumber part of a given fieldname should be treated as a guide to where the value was designed to appear within the specified form.

A particularly terrible example is HB5_q4_hq10.30, the field that reports the total of all income from maternity benefits for a given household. This is, perhaps, the most problematic example because no specific question relating to maternity benefits was located on the appropriate form for personal income, H.B.5. Question 3 on this form does provide respondents with spaces to specify received amounts of ‘family allowances’, ‘national assistance’, ‘unemployment benefit’, ‘sickness benefit’ and other welfare/benefits/insurance income types.

We might, however, have expected respondents in receipt of maternity benefits to enter such income under question 4 of the H.B.5 form: ‘If you have income from any other source, please state below the kinds of income and the approximate amounts received [...]’. Some respondents did so, but many others entered their maternity benefit income alongside some of the aforementioned benefit types above – at least one respondent even entered this in part 8 of question 3, ‘War Disability Pension or Allowance’. Thankfully, MoL administrators coded all monetary values across the entire survey with ‘H.Q. codes’ – in the case of maternity benefit income, with the hq code ‘10.30’ (see Appendix I) .

The seeming chaos implied by this, the most probable worst example, is outweighed by the utility of having some guide to where values in the dataset relate to physical spaces on original pages of the survey. For purely statistical purposes, such an understanding may seem irrelevant to some users of this dataset. For them, only the hqCode element will be relevant. But for others who may wish to appreciate the ways and forms in which questions were asked and answered, the questionNumber element of fieldnames will constitute a helpful guide – so long as users keep in mind that respondents did not always fill out their forms in the way that computers or logical human minds would appreciate.

APPENDIX VI – EXAMPLE OF AN ORIGINAL HOUSEHOLD BUDGET

The following example is household HR-18-09-31-00, the record in the dataset with a Region of 18, an Area 9, Address 31, and a Household_No of 0.

For this household, the following items, as found in TNA holdings, exist in the following sequence:

File cover-page	x 1
Form H.B.20	x 1
Form H.B.2	x 1
Form H.B.5	x 4
Form H.B.3	x 4
Form H.B.4	x 4 sets of 21 day's expenditure

Not all of the 249 pages for this household will be reproduced below because the idea here is to explain rather than inundate the reader. Rather, the more interesting examples will be shown. For example, person '1' had no income to declare whereas person '2' did and so the latter's H.B.5 form is shown below. On the other hand, person '2' purchased very little whereas person '1' did enough shopping to feed the household. Thus the example of H.B.4 is given with the first week from person '1'.

Pages 4 and 5 of the H.B.4 form below demonstrate just how congested responses could be. Every monetary value was checked on every form by MoL administrators and regularised values with 'hq codes' were written on the original forms in red ink. However, in the example of pages 4 & 5 of the H.B.4 form below, we can see how such codes were used to rationalise the respondent's entries (there are less H.Q. codes than there are original entries). To add to the complications of the digitisation process, some codes relating to the first entries for food (section 1) were written instead in section 4 ('Clothing,' etc.) because the MoL administrator decided to use a less congested part of the form.

PERSONAL EXPENDITURE RECORD II

CONFIDENTIAL

All the particulars you give in this record will be treated as STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL. Your name and address will not be disclosed to anyone; and you should not put them on this document. When this record has been collected from you it will be sent direct to the headquarters of the enquiry where it will be seen only by the Government officials who will be engaged in compiling the statistics. The particulars you give will be combined, by machine tabulation, with those from large numbers of other households and only these combined figures will be published or used for other statistical purposes.

NOTE: The interviewer will call shortly before the end of the 7 days covered by this record, and will gladly help you with any difficulties.

HOW TO FILL UP THIS BOOKLET

PLEASE READ THESE NOTES BEFORE BEGINNING TO FILL UP THIS BOOKLET

1. This booklet is a record of your own expenditure, not the expenditure of the family as a whole and should contain only your own expenditure. Do not include expenditure by other members of your household. They are being provided with separate booklets.
2. Please keep a detailed account in the following pages of everything which you yourself pay for during each of the 7 days mentioned. Please note down everything you actually pay for during these 7 days, whether or not this is what you usually buy each week.
3. Please include everything you pay for. It does not matter whether it is for yourself, your family or for anyone else; whether it is paid for out of income or savings or money previously set aside; whether it is paid for out of your own money, housekeeping money or money obtained from any other source; and whether payment is by cash, by cheque, or by some other means.
4. A separate double page is provided for each day's expenditure. Please try to complete each day's record on the day in question—otherwise you may easily forget some things.
5. It is important to show each item, however small, separately. For example, it would be of little use to write "Groceries" without stating what were the actual items bought. Having written down the exact items bought on the day in question, then show (a) the quantity, writing this in the column headed "Quantity" and (b) the cost of it, writing this in the column headed "Amount paid". (Do not write in the column headed "For official use".) When stating the quantity give full details; for example, if the item is tea, how many ounces; if milk, how many pints. If you refer to loaves of bread, say whether large or small loaves. If you mention tins or packets, remember to give the size wherever possible.
6. Any goods ordered or delivered but for which no payment has yet been made should not be included because this is a record of payments. But any payments made during these 7 days for goods previously ordered should be included on the day on which payment is made.
7. For each day separate spaces are provided for certain broad groups of payments. Please do your best to put each item in its appropriate space. If you are uncertain where to put it, include it (giving full details) under "Other payments of any kind made today". Do not leave anything out because you do not know where to put it.
8. After you have entered up your record, please read through the list of items given on page 19, in case you may have forgotten any item of expenditure. This list may remind you of something you have paid for on one of these 7 days but forgotten to record.
9. Children's Pocket Money. If your household includes any children and you yourself give them any pocket money on any one of these 7 days, remember to enter this. Write "Children's pocket money" and state the amount in the column headed "Amount paid".
10. Clothing Clubs, etc. Perhaps you buy clothing, or other things, through a club. If you pay anything into such a club on any one of these 7 days, note it down on the day of payment, thus "To clothing club.....2s. 6d." If you also obtain any clothing, or other goods, through a club, on any of these 7 days, note it down on the day you receive it giving full details and its full price, thus: "Man's suit, through clothing club.....£10 10s. 0d."
11. Hire Purchase. If, on any of these 7 days, you pay any instalments on goods which you are buying by hire purchase, write down what the article is and the amount you pay, thus: "Hire purchase instalment on radio set.....3s. 6d." If you start purchasing anything by hire purchase arrangement on any of these 7 days, note it down on that day, with its full price, and also write down how much you actually pay on that day, thus:

Radio set by hire purchase costing	—	—	—	£20 19s. 6d.
H.P. First payment on radio set	—	—	—	£7 0s. 0d.
12. Second-hand purchases. If you pay for any second-hand goods during these 7 days, please write "second-hand" after the description of the item, and then state the amount paid.

13. Goods sold or part-exchanged. If you sell or part-exchange anything during these 7 days please refer to question 9 on page 18.

14. Payments made by deductions from wages or salaries. Some things are paid for by deductions from wages or salaries, e.g., National Insurance contributions, income tax, etc. Do not forget to record these if they have been deducted from any wages or salary you have received on any of the 7 days covered by this record. You may show them in the space "Other payments of any kind made today".

15. Farmers. If you are a farmer or smallholder, you probably obtain some of the food used in your household from your farm or holding. If so please give the information asked for in question 10 on page 18.

16. Shopkeepers. If you are a shopkeeper and your household draws any of its supplies from the stores of the shop, please give the particulars asked for in question 10 on page 18.
