

Anthropology Departmental Seminars

Spring 2017

Tuesdays 15.00 – 17.00 in Global Studies Resource Centre

Week 2: February 7th

Ryan Davey (LSE)

The arts of optimism among working-class debtors in England

Week 3: February 14th

Adom Philogene Heron (St Andrews)

When 'Blood Speaks': Naming the Father and the 'Mystics' of Kinship in Dominica, West Indies

Week 4: February 21st

Sajida Ally (Queen Mary)

'My health is simply not a problem': The Implicit and Moral Dimensions of Illness and Wellness Among Transnational Sri Lankan Muslim Women *(co-sponsored by CORTH)

Week 5: February 28th

Catherine Alexander (Durham)

Containing knowledge and moving on: Kazakhstan's nuclear renaissance? *(co-sponsored by the Sussex Asia Centre)

Week 6: March 7th

Antu Sorainen (Helsinki)

Material and immaterial objects as legacies in queer wills

Week 7: March 14th

Jan Grill (Manchester)

'In England they don't call you black!' Migrating racializations in the case of Slovak Roma mobilities

Week 8: March 21st

Andrea Pia (LSE)

Back on the water margin: the ethical fixes of sustainable water provisions in rural China *(co-sponsored by the Sussex Asia Centre, and Department of International Development)

Week 9: March 28th

Marco Di Nunzio (Université Libre, Bruxelles)

Working won't make you rich: The Morality of Development & the Eclipse of Labour *(co-sponsored by the Sussex Africa Centre, and Department of International Development)

Week 10: April 4th

Alanna Cant (Kent)

On the Object Itself: Oaxacan woodcarvers and the allure of their art