

Joint event between Centre for Higher Education and Equity Research (CHEER) & Centre for International Education (CIE)

03 June 2021

Palestinian Higher Education in Protracted Crises: Identity, Resilience and Hope

Time: 11:00 - 12:30 (UK Time)

Online seminar via Zoom:

Meeting ID: 951 3681 0333

Nazmi Al-Masri
Associate Professor of Education
The Islamic
University of Gaza, Palestine

Palestinian higher education institutions were born under military occupation, and have since been subjected to many protracted restrictions, including isolation and siege. Drawing on moral principles and ethical values, especially asserting identity, resilience and hopefulness, they strive to overcome these challenges and offer quality educational services through diverse and creative avenues, such as developing wide international academic networks and making the best of available technologies. This seminar will shed light on the state of Palestinian higher education institutions today.

US

UNIVERSITY OF SUSSEX