

Women, Militarisation and Trade in North-East India's Borderland Area

Thursday 27 June 2019

2 - 5pm

Bramber House Room 232

---

CWEH Activists and Academia Forum

University of Sussex

Women, Militarisation and Trade in North-East India's Borderland Area.

A seminar with Nandima Angom and David Lillian Thangsing (School of Global Studies)

Nandima would focus on Women's Resistance Movement against Militarisation in Manipur. David would talk on Trading along the Indo-Myanmar Borderlands: Commerce and Consumption in North East India.

David L-Thangsing is currently pursuing PhD in Social Anthropology at the School of global Studies, University of Sussex. His PhD research focuses on Trading in the Indo-Myanmar borderlands.

Nandima Angom is pursuing PhD in International development at the School of Global Studies, University of Sussex. Her research focuses on the changing dynamics in women's movement of Manipur.

---

CWEH Activists and Academia Forum    actacdforum@sussex.ac.uk