Developing Inclusion in our Schools and Colleges

Thursday 29 June / 1-5pm
University of Sussex

An afternoon workshop to share research, good practice and ideas about taking the inclusion agenda forward in our schools.

Teachers, parents, teaching assistants, SENCOs, and other related education professionals from primary, secondary and further education settings are invited to join us to share ideas and experiences of inclusion with education researchers at Sussex.

A range of workshops will cover themes such as:
- Inclusive pedagogy
- SEND for teacher training
- Social aspects of learning
- Positive approaches to behaviour

There will also be presentations from Sussex researchers and from Simon Smith, Brighton-based winner of the 2011 Erica Award for his outstanding contribution to helping others understand what it is like to experience autism.

We aim to establish a Sussex-based inclusion working group as an outcome of this event.
