

CENTRE FOR HIGHER EDUCATION AND EQUITY RESEARCH

Disrupting Internationalisation Discourses: Discussing Equity and Inclusion

Wednesday 19 July, 9.30am-4pm

Gardner Tower, Attenborough Centre for the Creative Arts, University of Sussex

This seminar draws together international expertise to re-think and challenge existing research on higher education and internationalisation by highlighting the importance of debates about equity and inclusion.

Keynote presentations:

- Professor Sue Webb, Monash University, Australia

Re-working equity in globalised higher education: Access to university in Australia for people seeking asylum

- Dr Linda Morrice, University of Sussex

The global crisis of refugee education: The neglect of young people and adults

- Dr Terri Kim, University of East London

Academic mobility, transnational identity capital, and stratification under conditions of academic capitalism

- Lee Rensimer, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Buy British, Be Global: Marketing mobility to expatriates at international branch campuses

Including presentations from visiting Roma scholars on the theme

'Reflections on equity, inclusion and internationalisation:

What might that mean for the Roma in Europe'

Reserve your place at:

www.sussex.ac.uk/education/cheer/events/july2017conference

US

UNIVERSITY OF SUSSEX