

Josh Hutton – Postgraduate Student Representative – Transcript

My name is Joshua Hutton, I'm a Postgraduate Student Representative for PhD students, specifically in my department, SPRU (Science Policy Research Unit) in Business, Management and Economics. My role as a Rep has been a slightly more interesting one, in that it's been a journey about learning about how other people understand quite what a PhD should be and how people go through a PhD in a very personal way. So my role has been to ensure that gets translated into the general structures and ensuring people have what they need to go through their journey.
