Scholarship Opportunity

The School of Education and Social Work, University of Sussex, together with research partners in India - Dr. B. R. Ambedkar University Delhi, National Institute of Education Planning and Administration, New Delhi, Jamia Milia Islamia University, New Delhi, and Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai - are engaged in the Going Global project funded by the British Council. The project involves course development, joint teaching and research. Specifically, the focus is on developing a core module ‘Global teacher education policies and practices’ to be offered at all the five participating institutions.

The development and teaching of this module includes a grant provision for partial scholarship to students from the Global South applying for the full-time Masters in International Education and Development (MAIED) programme at the School of Education and Social Work, University of Sussex in September 2022.

What is available: Partial Scholarship/bursary
Three (03) partial scholarships for students to enrol for the Masters of Arts in International Education and Development (MAIED) Programme in the School of Education and Social Work, University of Sussex.

Funding type: Partial funding from the British Council Grant to Professors Yusuf Sayed and Simon Thompson, School of Education and Social Work.

Eligibility & requirements:
To be eligible for the funding the following are essential:

1. The applicant must be a citizen of a Global South country. Preference will be given to students from the South Asian region and India in particular.
2. The applicant must have received and accepted an enrolment offer in the MAIED programme to start in September 2022.

If awarded the scholarship, successful candidates will have to
3. enrol in and successfully complete the ‘Global teacher education policy and practice’ module which is an option within the MAIED programme.

How to Apply:
Eligible applicants need to register interest in this scholarship through the postgraduate application system in applying for the MAIED, along with the following details:

1. A cover letter explaining: a) the interest in the area, b) why the applicant is suitable for this bursary, and c) how this bursary will be helpful in achieving the applicant’s educational goals/career goals.
2. An updated CV illustrating the applicant’s relevant academic and practical experience and/or demonstrated interest in the field of education.

Eligible applicants may be interviewed.
Last Date of Receiving the Applications: 4 September 2022

No of Scholarships Available: 03 only

Contact Information: Please contact Professor Yusuf Sayed copying in Ms. Anisha Debbaraman (ad736@sussex.ac.uk) for queries about this opportunity.

For further information on the course, research themes, and information about faculty, please visit the school’s website at link.