WELCOME to the University of Sussex Archaeological Society

OUR AIMS

We hope to promote a higher profile of archaeology at the University and try to encourage students, past and present, to keep in touch. We will also be available to help students wishing advice on existing assignments on the University's Archaeology courses. At present, most of our members are either past or current students at the CCE but we are open to anyone interested in archaeology. Our own ventures have involved guided visits to Flag Fen, Wilmington Man and Hastings Castle. We have also had a talk by Phil Harding of The Time Team, which was a great success. Since then we have organized several other fascinating talks at the University by local 'celebrities' (well, tutors) - and continue to do so, with a social afterwards in the IDS Bar

NEWSLETTER: The Lost Scroll

We produce (try to) four newsletters a year with information about forthcoming events both inside and outside the society. Occasionally there is a 'Student Focus', which incorporates various articles based on topics from the CCE courses. We report on practical work offered by other societies, which give our own members the opportunity to join in and gain experience. We welcome any contributions from members.
