Any subsequent changes in the title or research topic shall be valid only when approved by the Director of Doctoral Studies of the relevant School on the recommendation of the supervisor(s).

48. The academic progress of a student shall be reviewed annually under procedures approved by the Doctoral Studies Committee. In accordance with those procedures, a student shall be required to submit a report on research progress during each academic year. The Director of Doctoral Studies shall be responsible, within framework guidance set down by the Doctoral Studies Committee, for ensuring the existence and effective operation of arrangements within the School for proper review of the progress of each student. - Biochemistry
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Engineering & Information Technology
- Environmental Science
- Informatics
- Mathematics
- Physics & Astronomy
- SPRU: Science & Technology Policy Research

(b) Summary word length: the maximum word length for the summary section for both PhD and MPhil theses shall be 300 words except for theses in the subjects of Education, Creative Writing and Media Practice where the limit shall be 600 words.

(c) Musical Composition

In the case of the MPhil taken by musical composition the thesis shall consist of a portfolio of compositions and a discursive or written component. The portfolio shall contain at least one substantial composition and one or more related shorter compositions. The substantial composition should consist of either: a written score to be scored either for larger forces or for smaller forces in which case it should exceed 15 minutes in duration; or an equivalent-scale musical, sonic or audio-visual work for digital media; or an equivalent-scale musical performance of original work, which must be documented on DVD and submitted with the critical commentary. The written component [associated commentary] shall be between 8000-10,000 words in length. In the case of the PhD taken by musical composition the portfolio of compositions shall normally contain at least one large-scale work and a number of related smaller compositions. The large-scale work should consist of either: a written score for large forces or for smaller forces in which case it should exceed 30 minutes in duration; an equivalent-scale musical, sonic or audio-visual work for digital media; an equivalent-scale musical performance of original work, which must be documented on DVD and submitted with the critical commentary. The performance and portfolio (where relevant) must be accompanied by a written critical and theoretical commentary. For the MPhil (PhD) the discursive or critical written component of the thesis will be between 10,000 (20,000) and 20,000 (40,000) words in length. The summary for both the MPhil and the PhD shall not exceed 600 words.

(e) Drama, Theatre and Performance Studies

The thesis can either be submitted as a written thesis or through a combination of thesis and performance work. Where the thesis does not include a practice-based component it should follow the standard thesis format and guidelines (80,000 words for a PhD, 40,000 words for an MPhil). Thesis and practice: the submission should consist of either a substantial practice-based work, such as a performance, a series of workshops, an installation or a durational work, or a portfolio of works. The work must be documented in relevant and retainable form such as video/digital recording, scores or scripts, photographic evidence or a combination of these, agreed and approved by the supervisor(s). The work may or may not involve the student as performer but must be entirely her/his work. The practice-based component must be accompanied by a discursive, critical written component of between 10,000 and 20,000 words (MPhil) and between 20,000 and 40,000 words (PhD). The summary for both the MPhil and the PhD must not exceed 600 words.

(f) Creative Writing

Where poetry is the chosen genre, the creative component will be a book length manuscript and the critical component will be no less than 25,000 words (MPhil) or 50,000 words (PhD). However, the thesis may also be presented in such a way that the creative and critical components are interwoven to create a distinctive whole. In this instance, the creative and critical components may be seen, for example, as two different but interdependent responses to the same topic; or the creative component may arise out of the critical component (or vice versa) and be a vehicle for exploring it further. In

(b) providing an assurance that the thesis has not been, and will not be, submitted in whole or in part to another University for any other degree, except as declared under paragraph (a) above, or in terms of re-submission at the University of Sussex.

Notwithstanding the declaration, the University may investigate to verify the statement should it deem this to be necessary. Should the University be dissatisfied with the outcome of any such investigation, it may decide to terminate the examination. The University reserves the right for Senate to rescind the award of a degree if it is proven that a student has submitted the same thesis, or a thesis which significantly overlaps in content, to another University for the award of a degree, subsequent to the award of the Sussex degree.

54. Candidates submitting a ‘papers-style’ thesis are required to include a declaration confirming their contribution to each paper, especially in cases where the co-author is a supervisor. Examiners will be asked to pay particular attention to consistency or otherwise in the quality of those parts of the thesis which have not been submitted for publication (the linking chapters). Publications by a student relating to work described in the thesis may be submitted as supporting material.

(b) that a student should fail and should not be permitted to revise and re-submit the thesis for further examination.

74. Once a student has resubmitted their thesis for re-examination, s/he will not be able to revert to the original offer made by the Research Degree Examination Board after their examination.

75. The examiners shall recommend, for a student permitted to revise and resubmit the thesis for a second examination for the award of the Doctor of Philosophy, either:

(a) that the Doctor of Philosophy be awarded, unconditionally or subject to corrections being made to the thesis;

(b) that a student should fail the Doctor of Philosophy but be awarded the Master of Philosophy, unconditionally or subject to corrections being made to the thesis;

(c) that a student should fail and should not be permitted to revise and to re-submit the thesis for further examination.

76. The procedure to be followed in the event of failure by the examiners to reach a joint recommendation as to the result of the examination shall be determined by Doctoral Studies Committee.

77. No thesis shall be examined more than twice under this Regulations except as may be determined by the Research Degree and Professional Doctorate Appeals Board.

Withholding of award

78. Where a student is in arrears with the payment of tuition fees due to the University or to an affiliated institution, the University reserves the right to withhold an award and to withhold any recommendation for an award or recognition of study by any accrediting or validating body.

Appeals

79. There is no right of appeal in the University against the academic judgement of the duly appointed examiners.

80. A student may appeal against any of the decisions under paragraphs 66(b), 66(c), 67(b), 67(c), 67(d), 67(e), 67(f), 70(b), 72(b), 72(c).

81. Procedures for complaint and redress during the study period shall be set out in a statement approved by Doctoral Studies Committee. The alleged inadequacy of supervisory or other arrangements during the period of registration shall not constitute grounds for an appeal unless there are exceptional reasons for the information not having come to the attention of the examiners until after the examination.

82. A student who has been refused permission to re-register or to change registration from Master of Philosophy to Doctor of Philosophy or vice versa and considers that the decision was based on inadequate evidence or taken in an improper manner, or whose registration has been withdrawn, shall have the right to appeal against that decision by writing to the Secretary of the Appeals Board within twenty-one days of the notification of the decision. It shall be the responsibility of the student to ensure that all relevant evidence is available to the appropriate authority before the decision on re-registration or change of registration is made. Evidence produced later will be taken into account.
only when there are good reasons for it not having been presented in good time.

83. The grounds for an admissible appeal shall be one or more of the following allegations:

(a) that there existed circumstances affecting the student’s performance of which the examiners were not aware when their decision was taken, and which could not reasonably have been presented to the examiners;

(b) that there were procedural irregularities in the conduct of the examination (including administrative error) of such a nature as to cause reasonable doubt whether the examiners would have reached the same conclusion had they not occurred;

(c) that there is evidence of prejudice or of bias on the part of one or more of the examiners.

84. To lodge an appeal, the student must complete the relevant pro-forma as specified in the Academic Appeals Procedures and ensure this is submitted to, and received by, the Secretary of the Appeals Board within twenty-one days of the publication of the decision against which the appeal is made.
85. A decision on whether an appeal is admissible will be made by the Chair of the Research Degrees and Professional Doctorates Appeals Board, acting on the basis of the evidence and advice from relevant officers, in terms of being:
   (i) received in time (or, if received out of time, whether mitigating circumstances exist which justify waiving the normal time-limit);
   (ii) that the grounds of the appeal are admissible according to sections 76 to 80 above;
   (iii) that the remedy sought is one that is compatible with the University’s rules on examination and assessment.

86. Where an appeal is determined to be admissible, it shall be considered in one of these ways:
   (a) where the appeal appears to be readily decidable in favour of the appellant on the basis of the evidence available, the Chair of the Research Degree and Professional Doctorate Appeals Board may reach a decision without the need for a hearing;
   (b) otherwise, the appeal will be examined at a hearing of an Appeals Panel drawn from the membership of the Research Degree and Professional Doctorates Appeals Board.

87. In the event that a hearing of an Appeals Panel is held, the appellant shall have the right (though not an obligation) to attend. The Supervisor shall have the right to attend. The Appeals Panel shall be entitled to ask (but not require) the appellant to attend to provide further information. The Panel shall have the right to require the supervisor to attend the meeting. The appellant shall have the right to request that the supervisor may or may not attend the hearing jointly with the appellant. The Appeals Panel shall have the right to invite any other person to attend.

88. An appellant who attends an Appeals Panel hearing shall be entitled to be accompanied by a person of their choice, who may represent him or her in addition to the supervisor. If the appellant wishes to be so accompanied or represented, they shall inform the Secretary of the Appeals Board accordingly at least five working days in advance of the time of the hearing and shall at that time also supply the name of that person. If the appellant wishes the supervisor to be present with the appellant, they shall inform the Secretary of the Appeals Board at least five working days in advance of the time of the hearing.

89. After the Appeals Panel has been presented with the evidence in the case, all persons other than the Panel members and its officers shall withdraw while the Panel considers its decision in private. The Panel will normally invite the appellant (and the person accompanying him or her) to return to hear its decision. However, an Appeals Panel reserves the right to defer immediate decision and instead to provide a later written decision. In such cases, the normal time-limit (for reaching a decision, formulating it in writing and despatching it to the appellant) shall be seven working days unless otherwise specified by the Panel at the time of the hearing, in which case a specific reason for needing the additional time will be given to the appellant.

90. The Appeals Panel shall determine whether the case presented constitutes grounds for reconsideration and, if so, institute such steps as it considers appropriate in the circumstances.

91. There is no right of appeal against a decision of the Research Degree and Professional Doctorate Appeals Board or against the outcome of any process of reconsideration instituted by that Board.
Deposit of Thesis

92. A student awarded a degree shall:

(a) deposit two copies of the approved thesis with the University. One copy shall be bound in the style approved by Doctoral Studies Committee. The other shall be submitted in electronic format as prescribed by the Student Progress and Assessment Office. Both copies shall become the property of the University. Subject to any embargo or restriction of access to published work, the copy in electronic format shall be deposited in the University’s Institutional Repository and made available for wider public access by appropriate means. Graduation will be subject to the receipt of one bound and one electronic copy of the thesis;

(b) duly complete all necessary authorisations required by the British Library to lend, photocopy and sell copies of the thesis without further reference to the author.

93. In the case of a student not awarded a degree the University shall retain one copy of the thesis which shall become the property of the University.

Fitness to Study

94. Fitness to study is defined as fit to: benefit from the programme of study or research; participate and function largely independently in the university environment including in academic, residential, social, community activities. A student may be considered not fit to study if they cannot make academic progress without frequently disrupting the academic, social or normal business of the University, its staff and other students. This regulation also applies where continued attendance is likely to be detrimental to the health of the student. Under procedures approved by Senate, where a Fitness to Study Panel believes that a student is not fit to study, the Director or Deputy Director for the Student Experience (or nominee) may recommend to the Pro Vice Chancellor for Education and Students that the student be required to temporarily or permanently withdraw or that an applicant may be required to withdraw or defer admission.

95 Fitness to Study procedures also apply to students wishing to study abroad and to those going on placements.

Right of Appeal

96 A student who is required to withdraw/temporarily withdraw (or an applicant whose place is withdrawn/deferred) on fitness to study grounds shall have the right to appeal to the Deputy Vice Chancellor in writing within 7 working days of the decision being communicated to the student’s address, including their email address, as recorded on their student record. The grounds for appeal must be that there has been procedural irregularity or other inadequacy in the process by which the withdrawal/temporary withdrawal has been required.

97 Where a student or applicant lodges an appeal, they must not attend between the date of the notice in writing that they must withdraw, or temporarily withdraw, and the outcome of the appeal.

Return from temporary withdrawal or deferral of admission on health grounds:

98 A student preparing to return from temporary withdrawal (on health grounds) must satisfy the Fitness to Study Panel that their health has improved sufficiently to (re)commence studies or research.
