A Public Seminar

Teachers as Agents of Peace and Social Cohesion: Insights from Rwanda and South Africa

22 March 2017 / 2-6pm
Room G30, Jubilee Building

Funded by the ESRC/DfID Joint Fund for Poverty Alleviation, this project explores the crucial role of teachers as peace-builders on nation building, identity construction and peace and reconciliation in the post-conflict contexts of Rwanda and South Africa. It links to a wider five-country research consortium on education and peace-building.

SPEAKERS

• Professor Azeem Badroodien: Cape Peninsula University of Technology, South Africa
• Professor Eugene Ndabaga: University of Rwanda
• Dr Yunus Omar: Cape Peninsula University of Technology, South Africa
• Professor Yusuf Sayed: University of Sussex
• Professor Mario Novelli: University of Sussex
• Dr Naureen Durrani: University of Sussex
• Dr Angeline M. Barrett: University of Bristol

Refreshments provided
All welcome