Engagement Process

ODGERS BERNDTSON

Odgers Berndtson

We are delighted to be supporting and advising the University on the appointment of your next Vice-Chancellor. A critical part of this process is to develop an in-depth understanding of Sussex, your ambitions, priorities and challenges, and how this related to the skills, experience and qualities you seek in the Vice-Chancellor. We are therefore engaging widely across the University's community holding a combination of in-person and online meetings to gather your views and insights. We look forward to speaking to you.
