

The Centre for World Environmental History and the Centre for Social and Political Thought present

A Workshop on Climate Change and the Humanities

October 17th 11:00 – 15:50 in A108

- 11:00 Jacob Berkson- University of Sussex
“The strange mystery of barefaced lying: what comes in the door when truth goes out the window?”
- 11:40 Linnéa Rowlatt- University of Kent and Freie Universität Berlin
‘Preaching Nature at the Intersection of the Reformation and the Little Ice Age.’
- 12:20 Dr Andrew Chitty- University of Sussex
“Ideology and Climate Change Convictions”
- 13:00 Lunch
- 14:00 Matthew Hope- University of Bristol and Carbon Brief
‘Framing the politics of climate change: An academic-practitioner perspective.’
- 14:40 Reader Gideon Calder- University of South Wales
‘Climate Change, Nature and Culture’
- 15:20 Group discussion